Welcome . . .

Thank you for going on this trip to a socially-distanced tropical isle where we can electronically gather and join in support of the St. Charles Foundation and tonight's special beneficiary, St. Charles Behavioral Health.

Every crisis reveals opportunity. And that's exactly why we're seeking your support tonight.

In the past, your generous gifts enhanced cancer services, sustained children facing major surgery, strengthened our emergency department, delivered innovative equipment to patients in rehab, and built a world-class trauma center. Now, you have the opportunity to ensure that thousands of our friends and neighbors shaken by mental health issues receive the ongoing help they need to win their battles.

You may be a "virtual vacationing tourist" tonight, but – make no mistake – you are a real, enduring, and vitally important member of the St. Charles caregiving team. You are the catalyst to convert crisis into opportunity, and transform dark days into happy endings.

YOUR COMMUNITY MATTERS TO US.

Commitment to community is one of our core values. We continually seek to improve the quality of life for people in the cities and neighborhoods where our associates live and where we do business. In addition to corporate donations, our associates contribute their time, talent, and resources to thousands of worthy causes like yours throughout the world.

We're proud to be a gold sponsor of the St. Charles Foundation Saints Gala.

Your Host: Iman Simmons, Chief Operations Officer, St. Charles Health System

Iman is an Oregon native, hailing from the bustling town of Boring. She serves as the Chief Operating Officer for St. Charles Health System. In this role, Iman has executive responsibility for the four hospitals across the health system, as well as for Quality and Patient Safety programs. Prior to joining St. Charles, she was with Zuckerberg San Francisco General Hospital for 14 years, serving as Chief Operating Officer for three years and Chief Quality

Officer for almost seven years. Iman is a trained lean leader and has a deep appreciation for the power of people and process to drive extraordinary outcomes for patients. She has taught in higher education for over 17 years, most recently in the School of Public Health at UC Berkeley. She has two children, a husband who serves as a fifth grade teacher in Bend-La Pine School District, a very sweet dog named Bailey, and loves living in Central Oregon.

Your Marquam Auction Agency Auctioneer: AnnieM Luthro

Anne Marie Luthro, or AnnieM, as her adoring donors lovingly refer to her, Benefit Auctioneer at Marquam Auction Agency, has a rich history of public performance, spoken word and proven sales strategies. She's dynamic, authentic and inherently funny. Harnessing group energy and focusing it on the greater good is AnnieM's strength and passion. She's also an amazing Mistress of Ceremonies.

With undeniable stage presence and a knack for relating to people, AnnieM has that 'je ne sais quoi' that binds supporters to their favorite organizations all while funneling in dollars to do more good! A World Wide College of Auctioneering grad, a member of the National Auctioneers Association, a Benefit Auctioneer Specialist and a St. Jude Children's Research Hospital fundraising ambassador, she keeps programs fun, fast-paced and goal oriented.

When recreating, one can find AnnieM reveling with fellow music lovers enjoying live music... dancing, singing and loving life. Should you run in to her, be sure to ask her to dance!

Saints Gala to Raise Funds for Mental Health Services

St. Charles Foundation's 23rd annual Saints Gala will support a new program of St. Charles Behavioral Health, called "Stop the Revolving Door"

This year has brought a series of challenges: COVID-19; its effect on the economy; employment uncertainty; political division and devastating wildfires. The importance of our local mental health care system has never been more pronounced. For most of us, these challenges can be extremely stressful. For someone struggling with mental health issues, they can be completely overwhelming. It's no surprise more people are seeking help from the skilled providers at St. Charles Behavioral Health.

Sometimes, however, as patients transition from one level of care to another, they fall through the cracks and fail to receive the services they need. Often, this is because their barriers to those services are the same ones that drove them to seek care in the first place. When people are anxious or depressed, they are less likely to ask for support. And if they don't reach out, their symptoms can worsen until they reach a crisis point and return for emergency care.

Among mental health providers, this is known as "the revolving door." Once a person enters the revolving door, it's hard to get them out. It's better for everyone – the individual, the health system and the community – if we can keep them from falling through the cracks in the first place.

St. Charles Behavioral Health is launching a new program called "Stop the Revolving Door" that will provide extra support to patients and potential patients of all ages – from children to seniors – as they move through the mental health system. By walking alongside them through those difficult transitions, we can ensure they get the help they need and, ultimately, stop the revolving door, one person at a time.

Now more than ever, we must focus on the mental health of our community, which is why all proceeds from this year's Saints Gala will provide startup funds needed to get this vital program running. We are thankful for your support.
